Superb optical performance and mechanical precision for the most exacting research

The Nikon Microscope Model L-Ke

Designed especially for biological and medical work, this precision instrument embodies all the features that the most critical research demands. Its incomparable optics provide magnification ratios extending from 20X to 1500X. The Nikon microscope system gives the L-Ke unprecedented versatility by providing such interchangeable accessories as revolving nosepieces, objectives, eyepieces, illuminators, stages and others. The stage can be lowered 71mm (2.695") to accommodate oversized specimens. The coaxial coarse- and fine-focusing knobs are low-positioned for maximum ease and convenience. Koehler illumination is used throughout the entire magnification range to provide even brightness and superb contrast over the whole field of view. Through the Nikon microscope system of interchangeability the Nikon Microscope Model L-Ke performs with equal efficiency in all types of microscopy: bright- and dark-field, phase contrast, polarizing, interference-phase, differential interference, photo/cinemicrography, etc.
